

Ashley Maggs
Head of Airport Rescue and Fire Fighting Service

I joined Ports of Jersey as a fire fighter in 2014. My background was playing professional rugby in the UK, a career that gave the opportunity to relocate to Jersey to see out my professional days with the Jersey Reds.

A sporting and leadership background has really supported

“A sporting and leadership background has really supported me in my role”

me in my role and inspired me to progress in an organisation which invests in its people and champions progression.

I was one of the first to break the mould of promotion through the ranks, jumping directly from Fire Fighter to Watch Manager, and today, I am the Head of Airport Rescue and Fire Fighting Service.

Sarah-Louise Stubbs
Customer Experience
Manager

My career at Ports spans 22 years. I started at the Information Desk; it was only meant to be for a summer season but once you join it is hard to leave! I then worked as an administrator in the Fire Service and Engineering teams before becoming a Customer Experience Manager for the Passenger and Security Services department.

My drive to deliver excellent customer service to all passengers while supporting and leading our fantastic teams makes my role really fulfilling. I am immensely proud to work for such a forward-thinking company who are invested in their employees and strive to provide paths for progression in our chosen career paths.

“...once you join Ports of Jersey, it is hard to leave!”

For more information on joining the Ports Pathway and beginning your career with Ports of Jersey, go to www.ports.je/portspathway or scan the QR code.

The Ports Pathway

If you're looking for unbeatable opportunities, unrivalled experience, and an amazing career journey, the Ports Pathway could be for you.

With a number of apprenticeships and traineeships on offer, successful candidates will gain experience in a range of disciplines, earning a competitive salary while they learn on the job and are supported through professional qualifications and courses.

Interested, but wonder what it's like working at Ports of Jersey? Here's what some of our people think about working in one of the Island's most varied businesses.

Carl Gallichan
Airfield Maintenance
Technician

My role is full of variety, from line marking to waste management, fixing fencing and minor building tasks as well as operating heavy machinery such as sweepers, skip trucks and tractors.

The aspect of my role that I am most passionate about is the habitat management which consists of managing large grass areas (as much as 105 Old Trafford football pitches) to ensure we control weeds and grow the right type of grasses to prevent birds nesting and landing on the airfield. In the last year, I have had the opportunity to bring in a lot of the habitat works in-house resulting in savings for the organisation.

Adam La Tarouilly
IT Service Desk Technician

I started at Ports of Jersey after completing my collegiate course at Beaulieu Convent School, where I studied Computer Science, IT, and Business. I'm an IT Service Desk Technician and was bought in to cover a period of parental leave but am now a permanent part of the IT team. I perform a wide range of tasks ranging from computer repairs to software and hardware installation to monitoring and correcting different system failures and troubles.

I have worked on repairing remotely operated drones and using them in marinas, and I've designed parts for an underwater camera and coral for a marine life rejuvenation project to allow sea horses and other marine species to nest and thrive in marinas as if they were in coral reefs.

Nia Richardson
Corporate Services Manager and Data Protection Officer

Following years of travelling, I joined Ports of Jersey in 2012 as an Administrator for the Air Traffic Control and Technical Services teams. I was promoted to Executive Assistant for the CEO and Board in 2016, and more recently was promoted to Corporate Services Manager and Data Protection Officer where I get to work with all teams across the business.

My role is to support the business to ensure we are compliant with the Data Protection Law and our internal policies and procedures as well as managing my team. My role is fun and varied, and no day is the same. There are so many development opportunities available if you want to learn and grow.

Karyn Le Quesne
Customer Relations Officer

I have worked at the Airport for almost 30 years! You'll find me on the Customer Relations desk where I'm responsible for keeping flight information up to date by liaising with our Business Partners, manning the car park system, selling foreign exchange and many other tasks. I love that no two days are the same, giving great customer service when meeting people and helping them resolve various problems throughout their journey.

My favourite part of the job is making the 'bing bong' announcements, though my least favourite is the 4:30 alarm for the early shift. However, I'm a lover of the outdoors so shifts suit me, so you'll find me out on my paddle board when many are stuck in an office!

Lisa Loxton
Payroll Officer

While at Les Quennevais School, I did my work experience with Jersey Harbours, covering reception and completing basic admin tasks. I was offered a contract to work as a trainee administrator in the school holidays then offered a permanent job after I finished school.

In my 16 years working for Ports, which is more than half my life,

I progressed within Corporate Services to become a PA and now work in HR running the payroll for the whole of Ports of Jersey. I will never forget being told when I joined at age 15 that although I didn't have the knowledge or skills at that time, if you have a good attitude, you can be taught the rest. That has stuck with me ever since.